

UNESCO/POLAND CO-SPONSORED FELLOWSHIPS PROGRAMME
in Archaeology and Conservation edition 2026/2027
at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań, Poland

List of Invited Member States:

Algeria, Bolivia, Cameroon, Cape Verde, Cuba, Ecuador, Egypt, Georgia, Ghana, Iraq, Iran
 (the Islamic Republic of), Jamaica, Kazakhstan, Mauritius, Moldova, Mongolia, Peru, Republic of South Africa, Senegal, Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda, Ukraine
 Uzbekistan

Field of Research Studies	Courses	Host Institution	Requirements
Archaeological Internship	Main course : 1. New multidisciplinary methods in archaeological practice (lecture and workshops) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Fieldwork methodology – using measurements tools - Protection of cultural heritage in context of new archaeological methods - Theory of geophysical methods - GPR prospection + magnetometry - Fieldwork practice with measurement equipment – total station and RTK - Drone documentation method - Geophysical methods in practice – GPR prospection and magnetometry - Integration of field measurements, drone documentation and geophysical methods results in GIS environment and specialised software 2. Macro- and microscopy methods in archaeology (lectures and workshops) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Scanning electron microscopy (SEM-EDS) - Optical and digital microscopy - X-ray Fluorescence (XRF) Additional classes (three to choose courses): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 3D modelling for cultural heritage (workshops) - Remote sensing for UNESCO World Heritage protection (workshops) - Arqueología y historia de Poznań (lectures) - Paleoecology of wetlands and human history (lectures) Supplementary classes (one to choose): List of available lectures - https://amupie.amu.edu.pl	Faculty of Archaeology of the Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań	B.A or M.A preferably in Archaeology or Conservation Be proficient in reading and writing in English No more than 40 years old